

1. imbalance of power

hyperlink to web-site

- a\ the victim is/may be questioned without the right to have legal representation, nor any advice being given as to his/her rights
- b\ the victim may be forcefully 'medicated' and made to participate in 'interview(s)' at any time
- c\ legal representation can be denied by the hospital's official(s)
- d\ no rights need be granted to the person's own Therapist to even visit as is/was the case with Garth DANIELS!!!
- effectively someone can be held incommunicado!
YOU'RE TREATED WORSE THAN AN ACCUSED TERRORIST !!
- e\ the "Statement of Rights" should include the pertinent sections of the NSW Mental Health Act 2007 No 8 (i.e. s14 & s15) and include a written explanation of the meaning of these sections
- f\ No hospital be allowed to Involuntarily Admit anyone without a Magistrate's agreement obtained at a proper hearing. A maximum of 4 hours be allowed, from the commencement of detention, before the commencement of this hearing.
- g\ all 'interviews' should be visually and audio recorded, and made available to the person's legal representative, AS WOULD BE THE CASE WITH A COMMON CRIMINAL!!!
- h\ Once the hospital or its staff, have not complied with any legal requirement or obligation, the hospital's right to representation at any legal proceeding(s) to establish the patient's/victim's suitability for release from the hospital, should be revoked.

2. psychiatry is completely unscientific

As Psychiatry has no explanation for a patient(s) 'hearing voices', and I understand there is/are no proper active investigation(s) being conducted into this phenomenon, so therefore it is SIMPLY GAME, SET AND MATCH to the situation of PSYCHIATRY NOT BEING A SCIENCE. A science has answers to outstanding matters/observations OR is investigating – see < 14 'Black Holes' .pdf>. There is no recovery from this position!

The other point is that Psychiatry has irresponsibly ignored the importance of the report(s) of 'hearing voices' from the patient/victim. I call this one of the fourteen "Black Holes" in Psychiatry!

(see < 14 'Black Holes' .pdf>

- 3. The book Psychiatrists reference in determining which particular 'illness' the person is suffering, the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM-5), is simply an assemblage of invented disorders where the likelihood of any particular 'disorder' being added to this 'inventory of disorders' (with each disorder being just a collection of symptoms) being increased with the volume in which it is presented as well as the number of times it is presented. I've read that this process of amending/'updating' the DSM being described as "like a trading-room floor". The other point is that the name/'label' associated with the patient's problem(s) is irrelevant in determining effective, long-term treatment as the problem(s) is coming from the person's SUB-conscious mind, so access to this part of the mind needs to be attained (i.e. through Dreams, Hypnosis, Art Therapy, Sandplay, Meditation, etc.).
